How Congress Will Stand. (Special dispatch to The Indianapolis News).

NEW YORK, November 3.—New Jersey is for Hapcock by a small majority. Delaware the same. Repul lican majority in the lower house of congress at least twenty. The senate likely to be a tie. J. C. REID, Ed. Times,

New Jersey and Delaws isl to the Indianapolis News. PHILADELPHIA, Pa., November 3,-Delavare is democratic by about 800, with democratic legislature, which will return Bayard. New Jersey returns slow in coming in, but it is believed that the democrats have carried it by about three thousand majority. The legislature is republican, securing a republican United States senator in place of Randolph. Pennsylvania makes a gain of three congressmen, the delegation standing twenty to seven.

JERSEY CITY, November 3—The secretary of New Jersey says he has returns which show the election of the democratic electoral ticket by 1,500 majority, and Lud-low, democrat, for governor by a majority of not less than 500.

Sr. Louis, November 3.—Returns from Missouri come forward very slow. The Ninth congressional district is claimed for Ninth congressional district is claimed for Ford, greenback republican, and the republicans in Kansas city are claiming the Eighth district for Vanhorn. Two democrats, Orisp and Allen, ran in this district, and it is claimed that Vanhorn slipped in between them. Lincoln county about 800 democratic majority. Jasper county about 250 republican majority. The few scattering precinct returns show Dyer, republican for governor, makes considerable gains over previous republican votes.

NASHVILLE, November 3.—Partial returns from 34 counties give Wright 25,147, Hawkins 15,178, Wilson 12,522. The republicans have elected ten members of the regislature in Shelby county, and probably six in Davidson, and it is thought they will have contr 1 of the legislature, thus securing a United States senator and the state officers. Wright's majority in Davidson county over Wilson 2,500, which is about qual to Hawkins's. It is thought the latter is elected.

The City of Chicago. CHICAGO, November 3 .- Returns from the city complete give a total vote of over 81,000, of which Garfield had 42,484, Han-81,000, of which Garneld had 42,454, Hancock 37,713, republican majority 4,771. In the county Garfield had 54,312, Hancock 43,572, Republican majority 10,740. This is a republican gain in the county of over 11,000 compared with the election of 1876, and a republican gain of about 10,000 in the city.

CHICVGO, November 3.-Scattering turns from Iowa show a net republican gair over the vote for governor in 1879 of abou ffiteen per cent. If this rate holds good in the state Garfield's plurality over Hancock

ON THE STREETS TO-DAY.

The "3229" Craze—Republicans Take the Town—Personal Gossip.

The republicans are making the streets hideous with the r joyous din as on the day after the state election, but the idiocy has taken a wider range than on that occasion. In addition to the infernal tooting of the infernal horns, every other man bears on his back in large chalk figures, the mystic "329." Democrats do not enjoy it as hugely as when they had the craze several weeks ago. Buggies decorated with Garfield's and Arthur's pictures, the national colors, the occupants carrying a dead rooster may be seen at intervals. These are some of the means adopted by the happy republicans to express their feelings. The probable loss of California, and the certain loss of New Jersey, somewhat dampened their joy, but on the whole they feel satisfied.

It is expected that to night every body will turn out to the court house, and bring all the horns that can be found.

Gov. Hendricks was asked this morning his opinion on the election. He replied with the observation that there had been no election—it was all a horrid mistake.

Mr. English was not at his room this morning; also no one else. He wasseen, however, and appeared quite chipper and peart, so to speak—a great improvement over his appearance the day of Landers's defeat. He skillfully evaded the interviewer. A report, based upon democratic authority, has it that his expenditures on behalf of the campaign amount to 26,000.

politicians became aroused about noon yesterday, and worked hard to bring up the vote of the county to that of October, and in Indianapolis they nearly succeeded, the total number of ballots cast being 19,418, only 71 less than last month. Early in the evening large excited throngs gathered about the political headquarters, telegraph and newspaper offices, where the returns were read as fast as rewhere the returns were read as has as re-ceived. MR. TILDEN'S VOTE.

Mr. Tilden left his house in Gramercy Park at 1 p. m., and walked unattended to the polling place on Fourth avenue. He was recognized by the throng, which crowded around him. He uncovered his head reverently, and proffered his ballot. The inspector asked his name; the voter said, in a low tone: "Samuel J. Tilden." The inspector called aloud to his fellows, "Tilden, S. J." Then Mr. Tilden deposited his vote and went away.

DEMOCRATS SURPRISED IN NEW YORK.

[Special to Cincinnati Gazette.]

None of the democratic managers seem to have been prepared for the inroad which the mercantile and manufacturing classes of all grades, from the workingmen up, have made in the Hancock ranks. It is conceded on all sides that industrial questions have more than any other contributed to the result. The greatest satisfaction is felt that the victory is of such a sweeping character as to prevent any contest in congress over the count. The city, in the main, has been quiet, and in all public places the crowds of republicans are indulging in all forms of rejoicing.

The News at Mentor.

[Special to Cincinnati Commercial.]
General Garfield's office was prepared for the expected work of the night, during the afternoon, and two operators were ready to receive what should come telling of the resu t. After supper friends began to gather in the office and scattering return; began to come in. Among the vis tors were Hon. C. B. Lockwood, of Clevel nd, and Hon. Harmon Austinof War-ren. One of the first dispatches was from fifty towns in Maine, showing large republican gains over the vote in September. General Gazfield received this news with evident satisfaction.

Another dispatch from Maine assured the Another dispatch from Maine assured the state by 5,000 republican majority, which provoked applause from those present; but the man most concerned gave no sign of especial interest, and went on reading the bulletins as they came in.

"It's a little queer we don't hear from Indiana," remarked the general, "but the returns in October were the last to come in," and he proceeded to figure up gains just in from Massachusetts, munching an apple meanwhile. About this time the folowing telegram came, dated at New York:

General J. A. Garfield:

This city gives about 43,000 majority for Hancock. Indications of a majority for you of 40,000 in the state. News from Maine and Jersey S. W. Dorsey. S. W. Dorsey.

Shortly after 9 o'clock the full returns from Mentor were brought in, giving a republican gain of 13 over October, and Gen. Garfield congratulated his neighbors on the good work. The subjoined dispatch General Garfield handed to a reporter to read with the remark, "It's too early."

After reading another bulletin from the empire state, General Garfield expressed himself for the first time. "James A. Garfield:—The republicans of New York city, assembled in mass meeting at Chickering hall, send their most hearty congratulations to the president elect, and assure him of a handsome majority in the state of over 40,000. Down goes $29."

During the course of the afternoon the general made a remark about his delay in denying the Morey letter, which he repeat-ed at this time. He said in substance: "I wanted to see whether the democratic parwanted to see whether the democratic party would take up a slander put forth by a disreputable paper without investigating its source." From this on the president-elect felt more free to express himself. He said after one of the most favorable dispatches: "Gentlemen, this result means three things: First, that the American people believe in the patient. this result means three things: First, that the American people believe in the nationality of the government; second, that they believe in a good, honest, healthy financial policy; third, they were determined not to narrow and disgrace the sphere of American politics by indorsing a campaign of personal abuse." In reading a dispatch from Virginia which showed that the republicans had stood by their tickets and refused to fuse with the readjusters, General Garfield said: "I steadily oppose any such idea that we should join with no party that proposes to repudiate financial obligations."

Special dispatches of congratulation were received from General A. D. Streight, of Indiana, and Hon. A. Pardee, of New Orleans, both of whom were on General Gar-

ATTEMPTED MURDER. William Watson Shoots at J. McHugh, but Succeeds in Powder-Burning Him Only. Consiedrable excitement was occasioned on South Illinois street, near Maryland, shortly after 12 o'clock to-day, by a shooting affray, which fortunately had no serious issue. William Watson, employed by the Western Union in erecting wires, shot at Capt. J. McHugh, the South Illinois street milliner, while standing in front of Kelley's marbie works on Maryland street, just west of Illinois. The ball missed its mark, embedding itseli in the door jamb, but McHugh's right eye was powder burned causing intense pain. Patrolmen Smith and Webber at once arrested Watson and took him to the station house while Patrolman Paul took McHugh to his residence over the store, where Dr. Knok treated him.

residence over the store, where Dr. Know treated him.

A reporter for the News visited the scene of the shooting, and learned the two stories told of the affair. One is that Martin Powers and McHugh met Watson in Burn's saloon after midnight, and upon his shouting for Garfield one told the other to "shoot the scn-of-a-b--," which was done, Watson running out of the saloon. He reported the case at the station, but being intoxicated, no serious attention was paid to the complaint. Watson says that when he spoke to McHugh about it this afterneon, the latter acknowledged that he had fired the shot, and Watson says made a motion to draw his re-Watson says made a motion to draw his re-volver, and then he shot. No revolver or other weapon was found on McHugh's person.

On the other hand McHugh's friends claim that the only provocation Watson had was the fact that McHugh challenged had was the fact that MeHugh challenged his vote at the polls yesterday, and say that when Watsom met him to-day he asked, "Are you the man that challenged my vote?" not mentioning any previous affrag. McHugh's friends are very indignant over the attempt to kill him, charging that Watson is able to shake the life out of him with one hand, being a much larger and more reversely man.

HAZEL KIRKE.

The play that had such a run at Madison Square theater, will be presented at the Park with the original scenery, mechanical effects and cast. It is without doubt one of the most pleasing and artistic plays of the modern stage. The New York Dispatch, after it had been played hundreds of times, reiterated its original statements that "it is one of the most beautiful productions, represented by one of the greatest dramatic companies in the country." It is conceeded to be one of the purest plays on the American stage. The box sheat for all four of the performances, already shows, that it will be a success, and seats even for the matinee should be secured at once.
